

GABRIELLE'S SWEET DEFENSE RAIDS iTUNES

Gabrielle and the whole Monsterville crew defend their desserts on iPhones and iPads Starting Today

Burlingame, CA. – February 20, 2014 - Natsume Inc., a worldwide developer and publisher of family-oriented video games, today launches the newest entry in a series of popular Gabrielle iOS titles by releasing Gabrielle's Sweet Defense. Crystal the witch has baked up a bevy of delicious treats, and the humans got scent of the goodies! Now Gabrielle and the whole Monsterville crew need to defend their desserts on iPhones and iPads. The game is available for free at iTunes

The humans are attacking from three fronts! Everyone in Monsterville is helping in any way they can, from Vlad the vampire to even Gabrielle's faithful cat, Lola. Players can see the latest video available now at http://www.natsume.com/current_game/games/ip_gsd/index.html

"We've gotta send these pesky humans back to the mortal world so we can get this party started!" said Gabrielle, the officially adopted non-monster of Monsterville, "but I'm confident the more we fight the humans, the more powerful we can become!"

An innovative tower defense game, the Monsterville crew will gain experience and level up as they defeat the hordes of humans looking for a sweet treat. As they grow in power, they will unlock new costumes and more. Can you make it to the final stage?

Gabrielle's Sweet Defense joins the Gabrielle iOS series, which also includes Gabrielle's Zombie Attack and Gabrielle's Monster Match. Natsume's full line of iOS titles includes entries in beloved series including Reel Fishing Pocket, Harvest Moon: Frantic Farming, and unique titles such as Ninja Climb.
